David Inglesfield and Robin Dennis both became members of the photo-sharing and social networking websites Fotolog and Flickr and soon after discovered their artistic fellowship.

In this spirit, we invite you to capture your favourite moments of the Journées de la Culture 2008 and up-load them onto a Flickr Goup specially created for this event.

On Saturday, September 27 and Sunday, September 28, 2008 we'll continuously screen images from this group in the gallery.

We're looking forward to seeing your photos!
